Post War Period Will Be Critical For Our Nation

WASHINGTON.—President Truman views the early postwar period as the most critical in this nation's history from the standpoint of the average American's daily welfare.

The chief executive sees in three specific and related problems the top challenge to government, industry and labor. Those problems are:

How to prevent widespread unemployment.

How to gear the machinery of war to the arts of peace.

How to keep purchasing power at a level high enough to absorb the output of busy peacetime factories.

Speaking in the Pacific Northwest early in his campaign for the vice presidency in 1944, Mr. Truman advocated the "overall approach to reconstruction bring the government's multi-billion-dollar war program investment into use by private industry.

Since entering the White House, he has been able to get government compensation payments until the States themselves can assume the full burden of insuring against sudden loss of purchasing power.

Meanwhile, the Office of War Mobilization and Reconstruction, under his old friend and ally, John W. Snyder, is at work on a multiplicity of plans, all aimed at softening the impact of a sudden halt to war work.

There is, Mr. Truman knows, a ready market for civilian goods and the savings in War Bonds and bank accounts offer the means to purchase as fast as they become available.

But plants must be cleared of machinery not adapted to the manufacture of civilian goods and other machinery must replace it. This is only one of the problems of reconstruction that will require prompt action.

Workers then must be rehired back into the reconverted plants, the President believes, at a sufficiently high level to sustain mass purchasing power.

The tax structure must be reexamined not only to give a view toward enabling industry to meet full speed recovery but in the light of a public debt of astronomical dimensions. The public's stake in War Bonds, the general desire for a strong Army and Navy, the stimulation of service men and women under the "GI Bill of Rights" all will require financial expenditures that must be financed by taxes if the debt is not to continue to rise.

Even as the cruiser Augusta cruises the waters of the Caribbean and the Big Six conference in Washington and the United Nations in San Francisco, the President is looking at the big picture of the postwar period.

Palm Beach Post Recognizes Rardin's Efforts For Roads

The editor of The Everglades News, who happens to be county commissioner from this district of Palm Beach County, will be commended until the first of September for his efforts in the county. Since he took office the first of January he has exerted every effort to ably represent this section of the county on the board of county commissioners. That he has accomplished this to a certain degree is borne out by this editorial which appeared recently in the columns of the Palm Beach Post:

PALM BEACH COUNTY FAREING WELL

Palm Beach County has good reason for satisfaction with the treatment being accorded it by the State Road Department.

A large portion of the funds budgeted for this division during the coming year has been allotted to roads in this county, principally in the Glades area.

This is as it should be for more and better roads are one of the Glades greatest needs. Recognition of that fact by the Road Department is largely due to the efforts of the county commissioners, especially Commissioner Paul Rardin of Canal Point. Since he took office last January, Mr. Rardin has worked indefatigably to improve the road situation in his district. Other members of the board have given him full support and the results are now becoming apparent.

Friendly relations between the county commission and the State Road Department is of the greatest importance to Palm Beach County. It is to be hoped they will be maintained on that basis.

Little expressions of kindness and encouragement like the above tend to make a fellow work just that much harder. We are of the opinion that the fellow referred to in the above editorial will continue to work untiringly for the betterment of road conditions in this the Everglades district of Palm Beach county.

Social Security Begins Second Decade's Work

With the Nation's Social Security Act starting its second decade, Mr. Verri, manager of the Social Security Board's office at West Palm Beach, Florida, today emphasized the importance of the program which provides a five-program attack on destitution.

The Social Security Board, Mr. Verri said, has a great responsibility for only one program of old-age and survivors insurance. "At our office," he said, "we issue social security cards which help straighten out any mistakes that may be made in the wage records of workers who have contributed to the Board. We give full information about the old-age and survivors insurance and handle claims for benefits."

Through our office we pay seven types of monthly insurance benefits on account of workers or their widows or those who have died.

On the retirement side, monthly benefits are paid to retired workers at 65, their wives at 65, and to any unmarried dependent children under 18.

On the survivor side, we pay monthly benefits to widows of insured workers when they are 65, children who are under 18, and to any unmarried dependent child who is under 18 in their care; to any child under 18 who has no wife or a child under 18 survives a worker, to aged dependent children, to aged dependent widows, and to aged dependent widows.

All other programs, Mr. Verri explained, are operated by the States, with Federal collaboration. Anyone having questions relative to unemployment compensation should contact their nearest U. S. Social Security Service office. Any person having questions relative to old age assistance, aid to the needy blind, and aid to dependent children should contact the District Welfare Board or the nearest State Welfare Board.

Mr. Verri, who is the West Palm Beach Field Office will be in the office of Social Security, Belle Glade, Fla., on Monday, August 20, 1945, at 10:00 a. m. He will answer any questions relative to the Old Age and Survivors Insurance program and will answer questions with those who have questions to ask.

Mr. Slater Brewster has gone to Atlanta, Ga., after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brewster. He was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Brewster, who will visit relatives in Georgia.

Pardon Our Modesty!

The presses of The Everglades News are stillled this week while the force and the boss enjoy a well-earned vacation. On Wednesday morning, Aug. 23, we will return to our duties of bringing forth each week this great palladium of the family fireside and with the hope of continuing our greatly appreciated efforts through another year.

Have you wondered though, how you could be receiving a paper on scheduled time with the office closed and the force on vacation? It is a master stroke of mechanical ingenuity. As we said in the headline—pardon our modesty!

Anyway, here's your paper on time and we are thoroughly enjoying our peaceful work or rest without a telephone jangling at our elbow to break in on our reverie.

Sugar Company Mortgages The Works To RFC

(From Stuart News)

An item of record involving the largest transaction ever filed here went into the county books this week when J. R. Pomeroy, Martin county clerk, placed on record a mortgage and promissory note for $7,500,000 from the United States Sugar Corp. to the Reconstruction Finance Corp. covering the sugar firm's property and equipment in Martin, Palm Beach, Glades and Hendry counties.

The legal documents were filed by Clarence R. Williams, president, and William H. Fleming, secretary, and specified terms of payment of the note to be made in four annual installments of $1,875,000 each to be paid quarterly. Payments on the principal are scheduled to begin June 1, 1946, with $750,000; $1,625,000 to be paid on or before June 1, 1947, and the same amount for the following two years.

The mortgage, which was paid on or before July 21, 1936, included "also all plants, buildings, structures, improvements, machinery and equipment now owned by the mortgagee and located by the mortgagee on the real estate in all mills, sugar houses, laboratories, starch houses, refineries, steam plants, electric plants, railroad cars and locomotive shops . . . water works, telephone systems and all other property."

Thus Be It Ever When Free Men Shall Stand Between Their Loved Homes And The Wars Desolation!

Coast Guard Gives Surf Boats To Local Troops

WPB Okels Five Dump Trucks For Palm Beach County

Chairman John Prince of the County Commission notified Paul Rardin this week that an okel has been received from the War Production Board in Washington on five ton and a half dump trucks. The trucks were ordered from several weeks ago and have been ready for delivery—awaiting the final okel from Washington. Now that the okel has been received, the trucks will be accepted by the county and some of them will be used by the Everglades Commissioner. The trucks have been in use for several years during the emergency.

Watson Rules On State Oil Rights

TALLAHASSEE.—Attorney General Tom Watson Monday rendered several opinions, including one saying the state cannot lease its 50 per cent retained oil interest in "Murphy Act" lands. Watson advised the Internal Improvement Commission that the state cannot give drilling rights to private concerns provided that they pay to the state a portion of the value of oil produced. The state must provide for the payment of a license fee or having full rights to drill. Watson advised Mrs. Kathryn R. Cutaway of West Palm Beach to investigate thoroughly an unnamed woman of German citizenship who has applied to the state for nurses' examinations for a license to practice. Watson is secretary-treasurer of the board.

He had informed Watson that the woman was "lacking in good moral character and has recently engaged in activities derogatory to the profession."

Supreme Court Ruling Will Just About Stop Commercial Fishing On Lake Okeechobee

Commercial fishermen of Lake Okeechobee will not be allowed to have more than the legal limit of fresh water scale fish in their possession starting tomorrow, or be prosecuted by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

For several years the waters of Lake Okeechobee have been closed as salt waters so as to allow commercial interests to continue the use of seines, traps and other devices for the taking of rough and scale fish. The game and fish commission obtained a decision from the state supreme court giving it jurisdiction over all fresh water scale fish "no matter whether they were caught in salt water." On the strength of this decision, and because South Florida sportsmen, through photo graphs and reliable reports, proved commercial net fishermen were destroying the fish supply of the lake, the commission issued orders to catch in salt water and possession rules of the law.

The limit on fresh water species caught by the waters of Florida are as follows: black bass 8 speckled perch 20, jack crabs 15, pike 20, largemouth bass 20, red breast 20, warmouth perch 20, other species of game 20; a mixed string should not contain more than 20 fish.

The limit to the boat is the same for one person, and double the amount for any two or more fisherman. The limit is the same for any two or more fisherman. The limit is the same for any two or more fisherman.

RAMIE

One of the latest and most important of Florida products is ramie, the China grass whose fiber is seven times stronger than wool, eight times stronger than cotton, four times stronger than hemp. As machinery racking it is two and one-half times more efficient than any other known material.

It can be used for ropes, tarpaulins, tents, hammocks, clothing, tablecloths and a multitude of other uses. It can be made into paper. Companies such as Johns-Manville and Newport Industries are interested in the construction of a ramie processing plant near Belle Glade—St. Petersburg Times.

AUTOS JUMP THE GUN

Auto makers' strategy is to "crack" 1945 production quotas. Companies whose assembly lines are already moving will keep on at top pace. Then, probably by Oct. 1, they'll seek war production board permission to keep operating—if necessary by "borrowing" from early 1946 allotments. They'll have a strong talking point: What to do with idle workers and quiescent factories of production must be stepped because quotas are exhausted.

Meanwhile, the WPB is getting more complaints from civilian goods makers who fear to start production until they know they'll get a continuing flow of material.

Pressure increases for complete abandonment of controlled materials allotments by Oct. 1. WPB spokesman, besieged with industry queries on the raw materials supply outlook, have a stock reply: "All we can say for certain is there's going to be a period of uncertainty."—Wall Street Journal

THEN THEY WERE HEIRS

A Philadelphia committed suicide and left the following note:
"I married a widow with a grown daughter. My father fell in love with my stepdaughter and married her—thus becoming my son-in-law, and my stepdaughter became my mother because she was my father's wife."

"My wife gave birth to a son, who was, of course, my father's brother-in-law and also my uncle for he was the brother of my stepdaughter."

"My father's wife became the mother of a son, who was of course, my brother, and also my grandfather for he was the son of my daughter."

"Accordingly, my wife was my grandfather because she was my mother's mother—I was my wife's husband and grandfather at the same time—and as the husband of a person's grandmother is his grandfather, I am my own grandfather!"—(The St. Louis, Mo.) Pepper Box.

Mammoth Fish Caught, Key West

KEY WEST—A mammoth unidentified fish, believed by many to be a mullus, of the whale family, was captured in Hawks channel off Loverhead key, and towed into Key West over the week end.

The fish measured 20 feet and is 4½ feet overhauled. Its weight has been estimated anywhere from 5,000 to 7,000 pounds.

Capt. Herbert Pinder and his mate, a mullus, of the whale family, was captured in Hawks channel off Loverhead key, and towed into Key West over the week end.

"It seemed to be heading into shallow water," Pinder said. "We maneuvered our boat alongside and I threw a harpoon into him and then started a battle which continued through the night."

"Even with our 84-horsepower motor going full speed ahead the fish would pull us backwards," Pinder said. "Finally we decided to throw overboard our two anchors and for more than two hours we held him in check, but as soon as the anchors were lifted he started towing us again."

With daylight, Pinder got into a tender and as the fish came up for air he managed to put a rope around his tail.

With the small cruiser speeding about, the fish was pulled through the water by his tail until he drowned.

The first report that the monster was a black fish was discounted by veteran fishermen, who recalled that some years ago several large black fish came into the shallow along South beach to die. This fish, however, has a grayish color and bears every resemblance to the whale family.

Hundreds of small abrasions on one side of the sea denizen and a large wound in the other leads many to believe that it had been wounded by an exploding bomb dropped by a Navy plane or injured by the propeller of a ship. It has been placed on exhibition at Thompson dock.

Seek Reduction On Insurance Rates

JACKSONVILLE — Asserting that "present insurance rates and existing conditions have caused employer policy holders to become dissatisfied," the Florida Trade Association council, the Associated Industries and other employer groups Monday asked for a reduction in rates for workmen's compensation insurance.

The plea for rate cuts was made at a hearing called by State Insurance Commissioner Ed Larsen. Opening the employers' case, General Manager Muri E. Pace of the Florida Canners Association, spokesman for the council, presented a series of resolutions and asked their adoption. Larsen will consider the facts presented before making a decision.

"The matter of rates charged by insurance carriers and premiums paid by employers has long been an item of controversy," he declared. "Year after year divers and multitudinous sets of figures have been presented for consideration by the insurance commissioner."

He told the commissioner that employers felt he possessed ample legal authority to "demand and secure a complete correction of the situation."

Resolutions presented included: That the insurance commissioner in promulgating rates use experience of the first four of the most recent five calendar years, that he fix and determine rates on figures and data furnished by the Florida industrial commission; that he request the commission to make necessary audits required to carry out this recommendation; that he require insurance companies in the state to comply with Florida laws in furnishing data to the Florida industrial commission and that no rate change be made until these recommendations are carried out.

SALVAGE CONTINUES

WASHINGTON. — The waste paper, tin and fats salvage campaigns will be continued for the time being, War Production Board officials said yesterday.

SUGAR STILL SCARCE

WASHINGTON — Just because the war is over, don't expect to go (ice) lifting or rationing may not out and get all the beef steaks and sugar you want.

There still is a world-wide shortage of food—a shortage this country has promised to help meet.

The removal from rationing of meat, butter, margarine, other food fats and oil and sugar may be many months in coming. In the case of sugar and fats and oils (including butter and margarine) and grades of beef off the ration list next winter, after heavy fall and winter marketing of cattle and hogs reach slaughter pens.

Government food officials emphasized that the end of the war brought little change in the world food situation. Acute shortages exist, they explained, in war-torn areas of Europe and the Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess M. Elliott and family are spending two weeks at Surf Cottage, North of Palm Beach while Mr. Elliott, is transacting business in West Palm Beach.

Limestone One Of State's Foremost Industries Now

Production of limestone and its products to meet Florida markets and for export holds promise of great expansion during postwar years, the research division of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce stated today in its weekly business review.

Limestone is Florida's second most important mineral, being surpassed in volume and value only by phosphate. Latest State Geological Survey reports on limestone cover the year 1943 and place the value of production for all purposes at $1,477,888 for the 1943, 1944 and 1945 years.

The principal use of limestone in Florida is in building. State and Federal highway construction plans call for more than double the pre-war demand for limestone. Additional quantities will be needed for general building purposes under the $149,942,000 construction volume currently in the blue print stage.

Other uses of limestone are for railroad ballast, soil conditioning, fertilizer fillers, building stone, mortars, cosmetics and for such industrial purposes as cement, lime and wood pulp manufacturing. Florida production in most of these categories should be expanded to meet local needs. In addition the possibility of carbon dioxide, produced in the slaking of lime, as a freezing agent offers a new field.

Florida production of 17,959

Florida Aviation Outstanding In America Today

The first scheduled air service in the world was inaugurated in the State of Florida. On January 27, 1914, an airline operating over a 22-mile demonstration flying service over Tampa Bay between St. Petersburg and Tampa. This line maintained two daily round-trip flights for 28 consecutive days before its operations were terminated. Commercial aviation after the above flights was not resumed in Florida for about 12 years. Individual pilots attempted scheduled flights between resort cities, catering to the tourist trade. Some of these, incorporated as local lines, were later displaced by larger interstate companies.

In 1926 Florida Airways established a mail route serving Key West, Miami and Tampa, Florida and Atlanta, Georgia. This line failed after a short period of operation. On September 17, 1927, Josh Tripp, present head of Pan American Airways, made the first flight from Key West to Havana, Cuba, the beginning of what has grown to be a world-wide air service.

The original air mail route of Eastern Airlines was inaugurated between Newark, N. J. and Atlanta, Georgia on May 1, 1928 by Pitcairn Aviation, Inc. one of the predecessor companies. On March 1, 1929, this same company inaugurated an air mail route from Miami to Jacksonville, Florida. On January 3, 1931, Eastern Airlines commenced its passenger service.

On October 15, 1934 National Air Lines entered the picture with a flight from Daytona Beach to Tampa. During the period when these air lines were organizing and preparing for the future, certain Florida cities constructed municipal airports. By May 1, 1935, the Aeronautics Branch of the Department of Commerce made a list of all airports recognized in Florida. This list included some 26 cities with 32 commercial municipal, auxiliary, Army and Naval airports located therein.

By 1935, eleven years after the above list was compiled, there were three scheduled air lines in Florida, Pan American, Eastern and National, and approximately 120 airports with modern facilities and emergency accommodations. On November 10, 1941, the Civil Aeronautics Administration issued a statement that, with California First, Florida ranked second in the number of airports in the United States. Today the entire state is criss-crossed by air routes and every city of any consequence has an airport, the majority of the other cities and towns being within easy reach of an air center.

Beauty . . . and the Block

Throughout Florida are thousands of examples of the beauty of concrete masonry construction — homes, churches, schools. In their variety, they exhibit the freedom of design and architectural charm possible with concrete masonry units.

And there's a bonus with this beauty, too. Strong and durable, concrete masonry units are fireproof, termite-proof, weather-resistant—all important factors in lower maintenance cost.

In step with the swing to this modern type of construction, our concrete products plant is daily producing a greater volume of properly-cured, precision-manufactured units—prepared now, and tomorrow, for the Glades accelerated building program.
